RENT CHANGES IN 'HARDSHIP' CASES OKAYED

Regional OPA Offices Instructed To 'Liberal-ize' Rents

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—Maj. Gen. Philip Fleming, director of the Office of Temporary Controls, said today he has instructed regional OPA offices to "liberalize" rents in "hardship cases."

Fleming made the statement to reporters after discussing rent control with President Truman.

The president told his news conference yesterday that he favored continuation of nation-wide rent controls and that responsibility for any changes now rested with Congress.

Fleming said he and the President did not come to any decision in their talk but covered the ground very thoroughly.

OPA Directors Informed
He said his instructions to liberalize rents in what he called "hardship cases" were given earlier this week at a conference here of regional OPA directors.

That would allow an increase in rents in cases where the present ceilings impose a hardship on the landlord.

Where there is any doubt about rents, Fleming explained, the regional directors are under instructions to resolve that doubt in favor of the landlord.

Local costs, he explained, will be the yardstick in determining whether rents are too low.

Fleming emphasized that his orders did not mean a break in the general line of rent controls. Rather, he said, they are simply designed to correct local situations where rents of some properties may be lower than those of comparable properties in the same area.

Argentine Topic Up For Marshall

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—The conflict between Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden and Ambassador George Messersmith over Argentine relations with Argentina appears certain to be resolved swiftly by Secretary of State Marshall.

President Truman told a news conference late yesterday that he and Marshall had discussed the situation. And while the chief executive did not express his own views, there have been reports that he urgently desires early action to straighten out this important issue in United States foreign policy.

Messersmith, who came to Washington at Christmas time, is still here. He evidently hopes to lay before Marshall his arguments for a modification of Braden's firm insistence that the Peron government of Argentina must fulfill all its international obligations before the United States adopts a friendly attitude.

Braden conferred with Mr. Truman a week ago and is reported to have taken the position that if there is any change in his stern handling of Argentine relations he will resign.

AAF Sleuths Don't Believe Missing Rockets Hit Moon

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—The Army, already sleuthing for two missing rocket warheads shot 114 miles into the sky, announced today it was working on a parachute to bring future stray nose-caps safely back to earth.

So far, army experts have experimented successfully with a ribbon-type chute to retrieve the warhead of a projectile whizzed 37 miles into space.

That leaves them an extra drop of 77 miles to work on.

The army said early tests, using standard type parachutes, failed when the chutes burst and the warheads loaded with scientific instruments were shattered upon impact with the ground.

Lt. Col. James G. Bain, chief of the guided missile branch, said a "WAC corporal" type rocket—much smaller and shorter of range than the giant V-2 rockets which have soared as high as 114 miles—was used in the test.

A clockwork mechanism set off an explosion which blew off the nose of the rocket and freed the parachute as the "WAC corporal" reached its zenith, he said.

Meanwhile, the "mystery of the missing missiles of New Mexico" was still unsolved.

It was disclosed some time ago that a V-2 warhead vanished in flight over the White Sands, N.M., testing grounds on Dec. 17.

Today Lt. Col. Harvey Rivkins of the ordnance department revealed that this was not the first one to go A.W.O.L. A one-ton warhead disappeared from a 14-ton modified German V-2 fired into the blue last July.

In both cases, the 13-ton bodies of the rockets came down and were recovered—as were the bodies and warheads of 15 others sent up from the White Sands station. But nobody knows what did happen to those two.

Lt. Col. Harold B. Turner, attached to the White Sands unit, said he believes the missing warheads also landed—probably within 18 to 30 miles of the launching site—rather than having taken off for the moon or still floating around on their own. But jeep and plane searches haven't spied them yet.

Official reassurances aren't keeping the layman from ideas, however. Since the first report of a V-2 blowing its top, the War department rocket research section has been getting a flurry of tips from people in widely-scattered parts of the country who believe they saw it.

Also, they've actually had volunteers for a rocket ride just to see what does happen aboard a foot-long warhead.

John R. Boyd of Sioux City, Ia., wrote the he believes a man could be fired aloft and return safely by bailing out. "I would like to volunteer my services as a passenger on such a flight," he wrote.

Boyd would be in for a fast ride. The V-2s travel at 3,500 miles an hour.

LABOR PRIMES GUNS AT OHIO PROPOSALS

Legislation Would Outlaw
Closed Shops and Curb Strikes

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Jan. 24—Organized labor primed its guns but withheld fire today against legislation proposing to outlaw closed shops, curb strikes and fix union responsibility in Ohio.

Both CIO and AFL spokesmen said they wanted to "wait and see" how the new state administration's labor policy shaped up before using their ammunition on "tough" proposals in the general assembly.

They referred to a bill sponsored by Rep. William R. Van Aken, Cleveland attorney who said it was aimed at unjust labor practices, and two others by Rep. Charles H. Veach, Putnam county farmer-lawyer. Both men are Republicans.

Proves A Surprise
Labor, state administration and chamber spokesmen expressed surprise on discovering the bills in the flood which poured into the house of representatives during the first week it received new measures.

Sources close to Gov. Thomas J. Herbert said he was not consulted by sponsors of the legislation and that he was awaiting results of a cabinet member check on such laws in other states before offering any suggestions.

Herbert in his recent message to the legislature asked consideration of laws in other states providing labor dispute cooling off periods, mediation and arbitration but said "strikes against the government should be prohibited by statute."

Van Aken said Cleveland organizations, which he did not identify, were behind his bill. He described it as "nothing drastic" and asserted it would protect the right of individuals to work, and prevent unions from expelling members without "good cause."

Calls For Annual Reports
Van Aken's bill would: Require unions to make annual reports to the states on their income, expenditures and membership. Allow strikes only through mail.

U. S. Steel Wage Talks Adjournd

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24—After conferring for two hours, representatives of the U. S. Steel Corp. and the CIO-United Steelworkers today recessed contract negotiation talks until Monday at 10:15 a. m.

Philip Murray, CIO and steelworker president, announced the recess in the long-awaited contract talks between the union and "big steel" which is expected to set the pattern for the steel industry generally.

Murray said the steelworkers executive board would meet this afternoon as will the union's wage-policy committee. He added: "We may have a statement after this meeting."

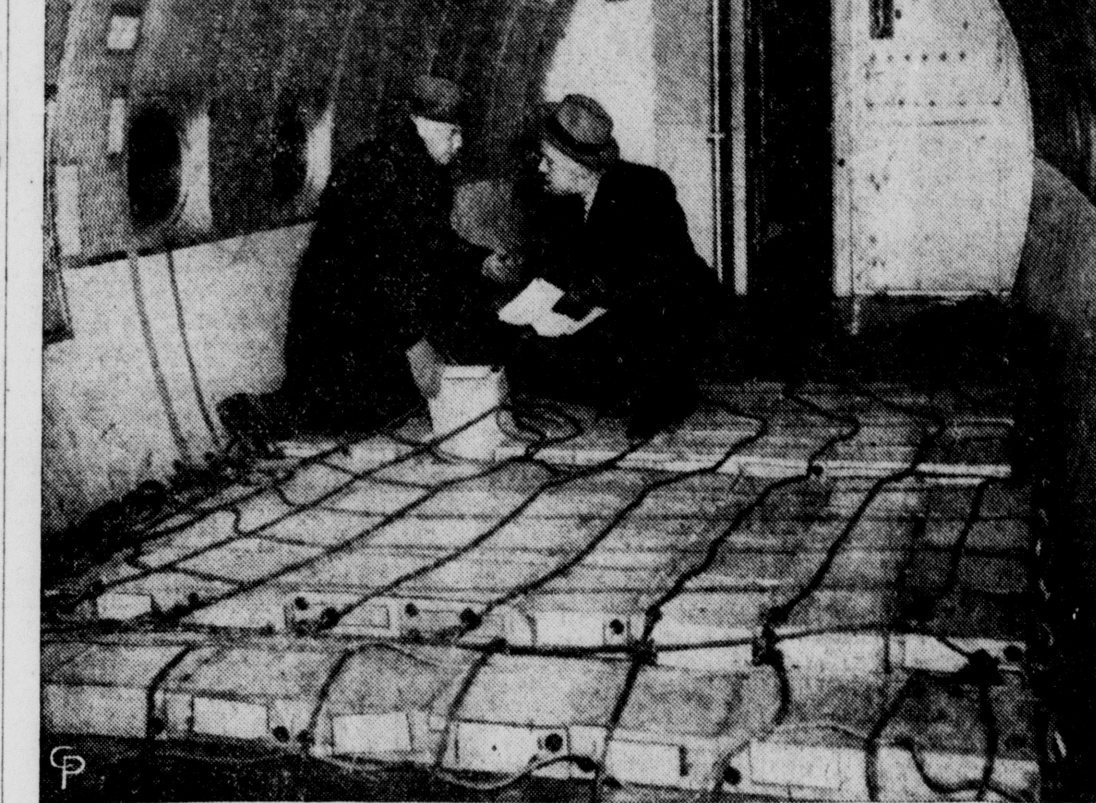

Murray said the steelworkers had submitted their proposals and other matters to the corporation negotiators at today's meeting and that afterwards it was unanimously agreed to recess until Monday.

Kiwanis Club Installs Officers at Dinner Fete

Installation of officers in impressive rites conducted by H. W. (Ike) Driver of Cleveland and an address by Rev. A. Robert Anderson, pastor of the Fifth Street Methodist church of Steubenville highlighted the dinner party held by the Salem Kiwanis club Thursday evening in the Masonic temple to celebrate the 32nd anniversary of Kiwanis International.

The Salem club observed its 25th anniversary last October. Four charter members still in the club are Charles R. Haldt, Warren Brown, Dr. R. E. Smucker and Clyde Reich.

Warren Brown and Clyde Reich were at the meeting last night. "Kiwanis International has placed at the head of its citizenship activities 'the support of the churches in their spiritual aims,'" Rev. Anderson told the Kiwanians and their guests.

"Kiwanis is not necessarily a religious organization and yet this objective has been placed high in its list by the democratic choice of its membership," he said.

Stress Importance of Faith
"The church in this country has played a most important part in establishing those basic concepts of individual liberties which form the cornerstone of our democracy."

"The church encourages faith and may I suggest that if peace is ever to come upon this earth and a world order established under which civilization may progress and life be worth living, faith must be enthroned in the hearts of men," the speaker added.

A mixed chorus from the Salem High school, under the direction of Thomas Crothers, sang "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Sylvia," "Hallelujah" from "Hi! The Deck," "The Sleigh," "Sleep," "I Can't Do That Sum" and "Friend of Mine." The students received generous applause.

Ben Bailey was the accompanist. Leslie Dunlap is the new president of the club, succeeding Curtis Vaughan.

Other officers are: Vice president, A. J. McDaniel; secretary, Loren Early; treasurer, Leon Colley.

Directors for 1946-47 are E. H. Althouse, Warren Brown, Albert Morris and George Trisler.

FORMER SOLON DENIES WAR FRAUD CHARGE

Freed On $2,000 Bonds To Await Trial In Capital
March 19

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—Andrew J. May, former chairman of the house military committee, and the Garsson brothers pleaded innocent today to charges of conspiring to defraud the government.

Chief Justice Bolitha Laws, who received their plea in U. S. District court, fixed March 19 for trial.

Each of the defendants was released in $2,000 bond.

Appearing with the former Kentucky Democratic congressman were Henry and Murray Garsson, and Joseph Freeman.

The Garssons were organizers of a wartime munitions combine which received more than $78,000,000 in war contracts. Freeman was their Washington representative.

Indicted Thursday
An indictment returned by a grand jury yesterday charges that May agreed to receive $53,634.07 and "other sums" from them and to use his influence to get them profitable contracts.

The 71-year-old former congressman appeared tense but gave no show of emotion as he stood before Justice Laws to answer the charges.

"I plead not guilty," he said in a strong voice.

Similar pleas then were entered by the two Garssons and Freeman.

The whole court arraignment took less than 15 minutes.

May had traveled most of the night to get here and the Garsson brothers had rushed to Washington from Illinois.

May's attorney, Warren Magee, of Washington, asked Justice Laws for at least 15 days in which to go over the 16-page indictment, which he said was "involved."

Similar requests were made by attorneys for Freeman and the Garsson brothers.

Will Study Indictment
Justice Laws allowed 15 days for the study of the indictment and suggested that perhaps the defendants would decide to change their pleas or file some motions in the next 15 days.

Allen Krouse, of Washington, representing the Garssons, sought to obtain a delay in the trial beyond March 19.

He said that date might conflict with another case in which Charles J. Margiotti, chief counsel for the Garssons, is an attorney.

Laws suggested the other case might be postponed to accommodate the May-Garsson case.

All four men were fingerprinted in the district building clock block before making bond.

Stoffer Guilty On Lesser Charge

Former Salem Police Chief Ralph N. Stoffer this afternoon was found "not guilty" by Portage Common Pleas Judge Blake C. Cook of an indictment charging him with illegal use of a machinegun.

The judge, however, found Stoffer guilty of a charge of pointing firearms. Sentence was deferred momentarily.

The charges were the outgrowth of a shooting scrape at Deerfield last May 30 when Stoffer, armed with a revolver and a machinegun, threatened Claude Thomas, a restaurant proprietor, and then chased a waitress from the place.

No one was wounded in the shooting, except Stoffer, who was felled by six bullets fired into his right leg by Portage county deputy sheriffs.

VIOLENT DEATHS CLAIM LIVES OF SEVEN IN OHIO

Railroad crossing collisions claimed the lives of three Ohio motorists Thursday: a two-year-old Canton boy was shot to death accidentally, and two Columbus men were killed by a hit-skip driver to end the state capital's string of 59 days without a traffic death.

The state highway patrol arrested George H. Hailey, 40, of London, O., in that city about an hour after John B. Goodman, 65, and his son-in-law Oran T. Collins, 51, were killed by an automobile on their way to a west side motion picture show last night. Patrolman said Hailey told them his car struck the two men.

Two Die At Warren
At Warren an Erie railroad passenger train collided with an automobile at the Burton crossing and killed W. L. Barlick and Janko Rajic of Warren, employees at the War Assets administration's Wardwell yards.

A Pennsylvania railroad passenger train killed Nimen V. Crawford, 62, of Genoa, in Canton.

Also in Canton, David Hunt, two, was shot fatally by a small rifle when his brother, Darrell, nine, picked it from the floor after it fell from a corner resting place.

In Cleveland John Labanich, 50, died of injuries suffered Monday when struck by an automobile.

David Sparks, 21, of Middletown, was killed when an automobile overturned and struck a guard rail near Middletown.

Prosecution Ends Case Against Tojo

TOKYO, Jan. 24—The prosecution today rested its case against former Premier Tojo and 25 other wartime Japanese leaders in a dramatic race against the clock.

Today's was the 16th session of the International War Crimes tribunal which began hearing the case April 29.

Only 25 of the original 28 defendants were in court. Former Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka and Adm. Osami Nagano, chief of the navy general staff at the time of Pearl Harbor, died since the trial opened. Dr. Shumei Okawa, a propagandist, was declared insane and confined to a hospital.

Okawa however is being tried in absentia on the possibility he later might be pronounced sane.

The trial record totals more than 4,000,000 words.

New Public Building Sites

City council has selected the site for the new City Hall and fire station and the board of education has determined where it will build the new elementary grade school in the northwest section of the city. Both are admirable choices, reflecting the sound judgment of the men who made them. Neither site will please everyone but the objections will be relatively few.

In making their selections, members of both bodies had to be guided by certain factors not familiar to and thus not fully appreciated by everyone. The few who made site suggestions to city council revealed a lack of knowledge of at least some of these factors. As councilmen pointed out this week the sites proposed on E. Pershing at Lundy and Penn failed to take into consideration the narrow streets which would be a hazard to the fire department. The Ohio Inspection bureau had frowned on any site north of State st. as being too remote from the center of property valuations. Various shortcomings of proposed S. Ellsworth sites were fully explained. All of these problems had been considered by council before the election. Only one site not previously studied from all angles was suggested at the public hearing following election; that was the E. Second st. property which automatically fell into the discarded list with the inspection bureau's opposition to any site north of State st.

The site at the southwest corner of Broadway and Pershing finally chosen by council has streets on three sides, with Broadway at 80 feet and Pershing to become 70 feet. The industrial plants are within easy reach in event of fire; the site is close to the business district, making city offices accessible to pedestrians as well as others; and there is ample room for future expansion. It was a wise choice.

In selecting the property at the north end of Buckeye ave. as the site for the new grade school, the board of education took into consideration the level plot for playground purposes as well as building purposes; its elevation, about the highest in the city; its possibilities for future expansion; its location with relation to the children it will serve not only when first occupied but in future years. It may seem to some to be near the extreme end of the territory it serves but school board members had the benefit of enumeration figures and facts and thus did not guess. They made a wise choice.

Because it is faced with the cold fact of increased enrollment next fall, the school board is pushing its plans for construction of this new building and for additional rooms at Reilly school. Plans are well advanced and sale of bonds likely will be made by the end of this month. There is reason now to expect that more rooms will be available for more children entering school for the first time next September. If city council makes just as good use of its time in facilitating the sale of bonds and completion of building plans, we may also have a new city building before next winter.

Beyond The Line of Duty

Gen. Marshall has given himself the best possible chance to make his State Department tour of duty friction-free from political interference. His renunciation of political ambitions is as vigorous as he can make it. If political speculation still continues in spite of it, he says it will be meaningless because he really means what he says; he is not in the market for an elective office.

The general's position as a former chief of staff and his record as head of the pyramid of authority created to wage and win World War II has made him the focus of other speculation, too—that his appointment to the State Department represents encroachment of military influence on a traditionally-civilian preserve. It would be excellent if this speculation also could be stopped.

It does an injustice to a man who gives every sign of accepting an assignment beyond the line of duty. Gen. Marshall could have avoided the risk of exposing himself as a public figure to the responsibilities of a post in which even success must prove disappointing, because its recognition may be too long delayed. He could have avoided the labor of a position so strenuous that in these times it demands more from its occupant than the presidency itself. For once it is credible that a public figure really means it when he says he has no political ambitions.

Emperor Capone

In beautiful Biscayne Bay, between Miami and Miami Beach, Al Capone has lived sumptuously since the end of the last decade, a disease-wrecked hulk of a man retaining none of the bravado that made him the emperor of the rackets in Chicago from about 1924 to his first incarceration in 1931.

During his seven-year reign, Capone was the central figure and on some occasions the triggerman of a gang warfare that terrorized a city and was the direct cause of the death of some dozens of hoodlums and hangers-on. The grand prize in this contest for power was control of the illicit liquor business in the Chicago area—a multi-million dollar business bestowed on the underworld by the mistaken zeal of prohibitionists who believed that the habit of abstention from alcohol could be fixed on a whole nation by law. When Capone's reign of terror finally passed out of his hands into the equally-ruthless hands of subordinate mobsters, it was because his lawyers had failed to make an airtight case of the income-tax evasion he practiced. After his release from prison in 1939, he still had enough of his fortune left to live luxuriously.

At least he lived measurably better than an obscure small-town lawyer in Granite Falls, Minn., who died last Monday at the age of 87 after many years of ill health. The lawyer's name was Andrew J. Volstead. He was a second-generation Norwegian who was to become famous as the author of the act of Congress that made the sale of liquor illegal. He was defeated in his race for the House of Representatives in 1922 and sank into political obscurity before the Capones had learned how to capitalize on the Volstead Act.

The Stars Say

For Saturday, January 23

A depressed state of mind, stressed by an erratic or wayward trend of the emotional behavior, may bring to this day a strange and inexplicable slant to the home, affectional, professional as well as business life. It is probable the romantic or domestic relations are of critical significance, with estrangements, strife or other untoward events spelling calamity and grief. A spirit of composure and rationality should be maintained rigidly.

The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may run into a year of devastating disturbance and disruption, largely due to a depressed and confused state of mind and health, exaggerated by curious, erratic and turbulent emotions and impulses. Inexplicable results, with estrangements, separations, or other strange experiences, may affect radically home and romantic life as well as business associations. A sound and deep analysis of underlying causes may avert serious, disruptive and regrettable conduct, radical and enduring.

A child born on this day should be given early and keen analysis and direction of its mentality and emotions, lest certain depressed or curious impulses menace its home and social life.

Reckless drivers have done a swell job of making the innocent bystander a poor insurance risk.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Relief of Steady Ringing In Ears

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

At one time or another nearly all of us have had at least a brief experience of "ringing" in the ears.

In such cases it is a passing thing but even that should give us more sympathy for these unfortunate people—the great composer Beethoven was one of them—for whom these head noises, which doctors call tinnitus aurium are a day-in and day-out affair.

Constantly plagued in this way, they suffer so severely that they are unable to concentrate on their work, become nervous and upset and they are unable to sleep.

Dr. Julius Lempert of New York has made a careful study of this condition. He concluded that the ringing in the ears might be the result of inflammation of some structure within the middle part of the ear of the tympanic cavity.

He found that when a person has an acute inflammation of the middle ear this same structure becomes acutely inflamed and ringing in the ears results. When the acute inflammation subsides the ear noises stop.

He also found that when a person has a long continued infection of the middle part of the ear this structure is destroyed and ringing in the ears no longer occurs.

The structure which seems to be responsible for the difficulty is a group of nerves known as the tympanic plexus. Hence, he concluded a cure for head noises might result from an operation to remove these nerves.

He carried out the operation on 15 patients who had suffered from tinnitus aurium over a long period of time. In three of these patients there was also deafness due to damage to the structures of the middle ear as a result of infection. In all three patients the ear noises disappeared.

In five patients the tinnitus occurred even though the hearing was normal. The operation cleared up the difficulty in only three of these.

Magician Is Beaten To Death For Stalling

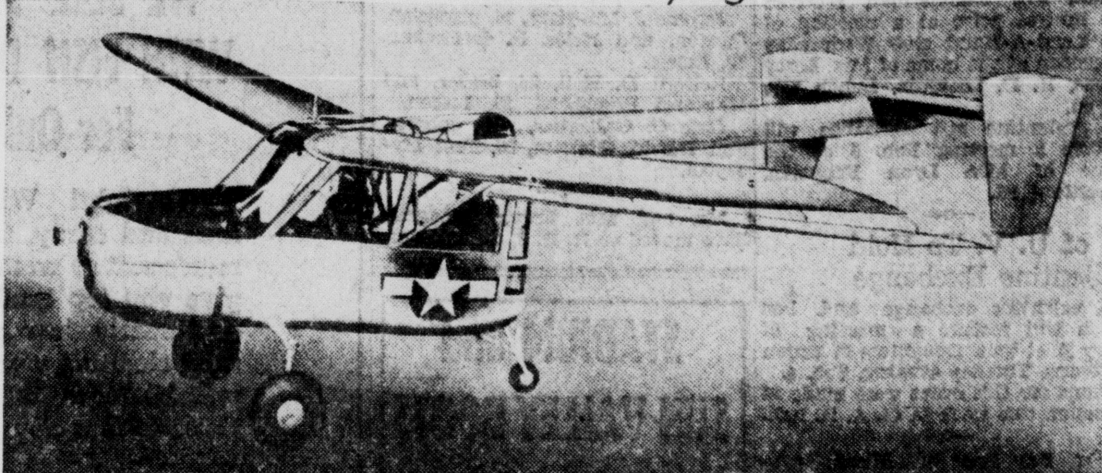

JALGAON, India—A "holy man" who had promised to bring back to life a boy killed by a cobra was beaten to death by an infuriated crowd in a village near here recently because he stalled at the last minute.

The boy had been dead several days when the conjurer, known locally as the Bengali Baboo, said he could bring the boy back. No fee was specified but naturally one was expected.

Police said the crowd numbered "many thousands" and that the ground about the site of the expected miracle was strewn with lemons, as requested by the conjurer.

When at the last minute he said the ceremony must be postponed two days, the crowd fell upon him and beat him to death.

EXPECT BOOST IN SUGAR ALLOTMENTS

CLEVELAND, Jan. 24—Ray Semans, regional sugar executive of the Office of Price Administration, said today the estimated world sugar production was expected to allow a 40 per cent ration boost to domestic consumers and 27 per cent to industrial users this year.

Housewives were granted 25 pounds last year for each member of their family and Semans said it was hoped the allotment would be increased to 35 pounds.

Persons who are agitating for a removal of sugar rationing are "misled" because without controls industrial users could outbid domestic consumers, Semans declared.

FARM PROBLEM SOLUTION SEEN

Anderson Sees Increased Exports As Offsetting Over-Production

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said today many farm problems could be solved if the nation maintained peak industrial employment and found ways of increasing exports of farm products.

In a statement presented to the senate agriculture committee, Anderson reiterated his assertion to the house agriculture committee yesterday that the country faced the prospect of wasteful and expensive farm output.

Then he suggested an alternative to his previous proposal for production controls on certain crops which receive government price support.

"A rather happy solution could be worked out," he said, "if we were sure that maximum employment could be retained and if we could find ways of maintaining or increasing our foreign trade in such commodities as cotton and wheat."

Looks Ahead

Under such conditions, Anderson said, government spending to maintain prices of most farm products would be needed only in years of heavy yields. He said stocks accumulated in such years could be disposed of when crops were smaller.

The problem then, he said, would turn chiefly around methods (1) for encouraging farmers to shift to production of commodities most in demand and (2) for aiding small, inefficient farmers to expand their operations or find non-farm work.

He added, however, that a serious situation might confront farming in the event of a depression and widespread unemployment. With this in mind, he suggested congress should re-examine existing farm

Re-open House 'Bank' After Shortage

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The house of representatives "bank" reopened today after an enforced 17-day holiday, and, despite a $125,000 shortage, managed to dig up enough money to change a $100 bill so a congressional secretary could buy breakfast.

The bank was closed on Jan. 6 for an audit. The auditors reported a shortage of $125,000 in the accounts of Kenneth Romney, former sergeant-at-arms.

The cashier didn't blink an eye when Lyle Snader, secretary to Rep. Leo Allen (R-Ill.), walked up to the window and requested change for a $100 bill.

He took a good look, though, just to be certain it was genuine.

City Workers Get Wage Boosts At Portsmouth

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 24.—City council last night granted wage increases estimated at $71,600 to all municipal employees, including 100 service department employees who yesterday ended a 22-day strike for higher pay.

An ordinance giving 10-cent hourly increases to wage workers and hiking salaries about 12 per cent, effective today, was adopted unanimously. The pay of major city officials was increased, effective next year at the start of new terms for elective officers.

Base pay of police and firemen under the new scale will be $180 monthly the first year, $190 the second and a maximum of $205. Department chiefs were given $600 annual salary increases to $3,600.

History gives the Chinese, not the Germans, the credit for creating sauerkraut. It was made by fermenting cabbage with wine.

legislation with the idea of setting up safeguards against overproduction and low farm prices.

Rebekahs At Leetonia Induct New Officers

LEETONIA, Jan. 24.—Deputy President Tillie McNulty was the installing officer at the I.O.O.F. hall Tuesday evening when D. Wallace Rebekah lodge installed the following officers for 1947:

Noble grand, Helen Archer; vice grand, Minnetta Keyser; secretary, Bessie Baker; financial secretary, Mabel Middleton; treasurer, Myrtle Holt; past noble grand, Mary Floding; warden, Velma Tittler; conductor, Juanita Russell.

was a student at the Maryland State School for the Deaf.

Sandebeck says jurists have called on him more than 100 times in the past 28 years to expedite "hearings" for offenders who can only talk with their hands.

If two deaf-mutes charged with assault on each other start arguing it out before the magistrate with their fingers, Sandebeck is called in to do the talking.

"I enjoy the job," he says. "It means an extra $5 a week when my services are needed in other than local police courts."

Sees Sugar Price Jump If Rationing Is Ended

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Agriculture Secretary Anderson said today retail sugar prices might jump to 40 cents a pound if price and ration controls were removed now. The present price, he said, is about 32 cent.

He also told the Senate Agriculture committee that the individual consumer should get an additional 10 pounds of sugar this year. Commercial sugar users should get about 33½ per cent more, he added.

Columbiana Pump Co. Is Expanding

COLUMBIANA, Jan. 24.—With a new steel brick and concrete addition to its foundry, the Columbiana Pump Co. has added 3,000 square feet to its foundry floor space.

Completion of other details of a program of improvement will increase its production capacity and the number of its employees to about 100.

In July, 1945, the plant, comprising machine shop and foundry, was acquired by Clyde Hoover and associates, and since then improvements to increase efficiency have been in progress.

Delays in the construction of the foundry addition have been encountered by reason of required government releases of materials. Ventilation and lighting of the new addition are modern. The windows are of combined glass and glass brick, diffusing light without admitting the direct rays of the sun. Foundry production will be increased 35 to 40 per cent.

The plant is served by the connecting switch between the Pennsylvania and Y. & S. railroads. Loading and unloading facilities have been improved with a concrete dock.

Officers of the company are: President, Clyde Hoover; secretary-treasurer, Mark Klingensmith; plant manager, Louis Baker; office manager, Hiram McGrath.

Concert Choir Coming
The concert choir of Heidelberg college, Tiffin, will give a concert in Grace Evangelical and Reformed church at 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

The choir of some 60 voices, under the direction of Ferris Ohi, has appeared in all the principal cities of the East and Midwest. Many of its concerts have been broadcast. With an emphasis on a capella performance, its programs include a wide range, sacred and secular.

Appearing with the choir will be Miss Shirley Bartels, freshman in music at Heidelberg, a daughter of Rev. W. J. Bartels, pastor of Grace church.

Ohio Liquor Rationing Plan To Be Shelved Soon

COLUMBUS, Jan. 24.—Liquor rationing will continue in Ohio for at least two more weeks, State Director Stanley B. Cofall announced today.

Scarce liquors, including certain bottled in bond brands, straight and Canadian and imported Scotch whiskeys, remain rationed through the next two-week period beginning Monday, he said.

"We are studying the market very carefully," Cofall declared, "and we will take steps toward total decontrol as soon as it is practicable. The time has not yet come."

12 In Payroll Padding Scheme Are Sentenced

YOUNGSTOWN, Jan. 24.—Twelve employees of the Republic Steel Corp., charged with receiving and concealing stolen property in connection with a payroll padding scheme, pleaded guilty in municipal court yesterday and were sentenced to 30-day jail terms.

Three others have not entered pleas to similar charges, while Joseph Beshare, 31, a clerk in the accounting office, was bound over to the grand jury. Beshare was accused of juggling time records.

Alliance War Plant Acquired by Crane Co.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—An agreement for purchase of Alliance Ware, Inc., by Crane Co. will be submitted to the Alliance, O. firm's stockholders for ratification, Crane Company President J. L. Holloway said today.

Both firms manufacture plumbing supplies and equipment, and under the proposed purchase, Holloway said, Alliance Ware would operate with present personnel as a division of Crane Co.

Crane proposes to issue 103,200 authorized common shares on the basis of eight-tenths of a share for each Alliance Ware common share and two shares for each Alliance Ware preferred share, Holloway said.

DOES YOUR CAR SHIMMY
at certain speeds?

If so, you probably need accurate wheel balancing. It's a long story... we haven't space to tell it here... but wheels must be in static balance and in running balance, too.

We correct for both. Our service is inexpensive, and stops shimmy, tire gouging, and wheel tramp. If you're all worn out after a day behind the wheel, if your car "goes into a dance" at certain speeds, you'll find the answer in this service. Drive in today.

Citizens Group Urged
A bill seeking "to maintain industrial harmony in Ohio" by creating a labor-management-citizens commission to seek settlement of labor disputes was introduced in the senate by Sen. Raymond E. Hildebrand (R-Lucas).

The 18-member commission, patterned after Toledo's successful group, would be employed to conduct public hearings on labor disputes, foster an educational program to avoid strikes, and recommend new labor legislation. A $300,000 appropriation was asked to finance the commission's work.

Block Any Claim To Hapsburg Throne

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 24—The four-power Deputy Foreign Ministers Council has agreed to write into the Austrian peace treaty a permanent veto on any future claim of the once mighty Hapsburg dynasty to the non-existent Austrian throne, an American informant said today. The informant said the ban had not been discussed in detail, but it would apply presumably to any aspirant to the crown. In other developments today the deputies received a Greek demand for "the highest possible level" in reparations payments from Germany, to be delivered "in the shortest possible time." Brazil presented a second note demanding a greater role for smaller nations in the deliberations. Australia and Canada were reported ready to refuse to present views in the treaties unless assured of a seat at the table for all of the peace talks.

Army Says 'No Talk' On Germ Warfare Discussion

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24 — The Army, startled by public discussions of germ warfare in recent months, has cloaked the whole subject under a "no talk" policy. While the desire for secrecy is understood to be an important factor in banning further reference to a weapon rated by some scientists as equal to the atomic bomb, some quarters in the Army also have been concerned over what they regard as extravagant statements about research progress. This attitude is in line with a prevailing school of thought at the Pentagon—that the public is placing too much confidence in "push button warfare" when much of it still is in the laboratory of drawing board stage. However, instructions which have come from top levels prevent bacteriological warfare experts from explaining their reasons for believing the present status of the weapon is over-rated in the public mind.

Fire losses in the United States during 1944 amounted to $423,538,000, and largely because of man's carelessness.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—Peace needs a new patriotism. Somebody must learn how to blow a bugle and beat a drum in a way to keep people stirred up for a better cause than blood letting.

Every day I meet young-old soldiers with listless hopes and a moody nostalgia for their war days. They coked me up, these ones. I don't mean, just now, the battle-hurt boys with twilight minds that interest the psychiatrists, or the ones in the hospitals with legs, arms and eyes gone and the metal of German shells still aching inside. These you can understand. But I mean the whole ones that carry the pain and bewilderment where it doesn't show. I mean the veterans who are working steadily at their jobs and raising families, but who aren't sure just what it all amounts to. You know there really are a lot of these men—hundreds of thousands. But they don't open up much except when they're talking with each other, when they're talking with "ex-Joes" who "belong" because they, too, shared the same experiences.

What is frightening is that these men live emotionally in a backward glance rather than a look forward. They feel that in war—bitter, murderous, miserable as it was—they reached a prime in manhood they will never gain again or excel. Peace is less rigorous, less demanding, but its goals are more uncertain.

I asked one just why he kept going back to his war memories, what life held then it doesn't hold now. He gave it a long thought.

"I guess it is really nothing more than a sense of movement," he said. "Lord knows it was a lousy and uncomfortable way to live, and I know how dull and boring it was most of the time."

"But no matter how much you hated a place, you knew you'd be moving on. You knew you were going somewhere. You had to—or the war would go on forever."

"You had to keep moving because there was always something they told you you had to get—a hill, or a town or a river. That's what I suppose I really miss—the knowing for sure that I'll still be moving. I don't know myself what I want to try for, but I feel like I'm always standing still."

To him moving up to a better-paying job just wasn't the same thing as taking a hill. You can take a hill under fire in a day or a month, and you know where you are all the time.

I think my friend nailed down the source of discontent among most "adjusted veterans" with his remark about a sense of movement. To ride in a tank column through enemy country gives a feeling of power, pride, danger and confidence that is hard to forget when you're back riding trolleys to work.

Then, if ever, is life at noon tide. The blood pulses in victory, the motors make music, all men weld their brain and muscle to the one clear purpose—and the column wheels through all barriers to the known objective and the evening rest.

But some soldier of peace must arise to keep this "oneness" of wartime alive, some Patton in mufti to provide new roadmaps, compasses and group objectives for the veterans on the long journey they now are going without benefit of bands.

Otherwise, more and more, they will bivouac in the past where no more victories can be won.

'Train' With 2 Headlights Stopped, Driver Arrested

ZANESVILLE, Jan. 24 — Railroad dispatcher Edwin Staley looked out of his Baltimore & Ohio signal tower near here and gasped: "First time I ever saw 'Old 36' with two headlights."

He gave the highball signal, however, only to discover that "Old 36" was a truck bumping mistakenly along the railroad right of way.

Police stopped the truck. Staley stopped the real "Old 36" and Charles F. Irvin, truck driver from Gratiot, was charged with driving while intoxicated.

DEPARTMENT OF "VEECKITIS"

One Salem baseball fan, Jim Aldom, expressed the sentiments of nearly every one present at the Saxon club last night, when he told Bill Veeck that "Salem fans really appreciate your appearance here."

Aldom went on to say that Salem, and all other towns its size, have been completely neglected by Indian management for years.

Veeck was obviously pleased with the compliment, but sincerely believes that there is nothing more important to the Tribe than good treatment of the fans.

One of Veeck's classic remarks about the previous Tribe management is, "When I first came to the Indians I found that no one but park employees and their families had been seeing the games."

He added, "I don't like this idea of playing in secret."

DEPARTMENT OF SIDE-GLANCES

Fred Cope, ardent Pittsburgh Pirate rooter, liked Bill Veeck so well that he expects to see the Tribe play several games this summer.

Veeck ribbed Cope about his Pirate leanings. Veeck told Kirby Laughlin that he would arrange a trout for him with an Indian minor league outfit.

He also expressed great interest in seeing development of better sandlot ball in this area and said he hopes the Indians can assist in years to come.

He said he has offered Cleveland's board of education free use of League park this year for scholastic ball.

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

With another packed house assured, Salem High will return home Tuesday night for a second battle with the Alliance Aviators.

On hand to do the officiating Tuesday night will be Titus B. Lobach, famous big time football and basketball official.

Lobach currently conducts a newspaper column answering queries from fans on rules governing play in various sports.

He has worked many games in Salem previously but hasn't been here for a number of years to work a basketball game.

Lobach will work with Bruce Hamm of Youngstown, another well-known district official. Lobach hails from Akron.

ODDS AND ENDS

Oddly enough, the contract signed by Bobby Feller, granting him an estimated $80,000 if gate receipts are good in 1947 baseball, is reportedly about three times what Manager Lou Boudreau and President Bill Veeck of the Indians each get annually from the club.

Akron North's Vikings are fast becoming the team in that area. It's no wonder with six men back from the whirlwind team that played the state final last season.

NEWHOUSE LOOKS ON FELLER DEAL WITHOUT JEALOUSY

Detroit Ace Dickers With Evans Over Contract: Will Get Plenty

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, Jan. 24.—Hal Newhouse, steady left-hand pitcher ace of the Detroit Tigers, isn't exactly in a jealous stew after reading of the choice attendance-bonus contract that may hoist the earnings of his No. 1 American league mound rival, Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians, to $80,000 for 1947.

Newhouse, the former hot-tempered blond who since 1933 hasn't failed to win at least 25 games a season for the Tigers, doesn't figure he'll wind up so far behind the Cleveland fireballer in the 1947 salary derby at that.

"Don't feel sorry for me," he said. "I had a bonus clause based on attendance in my 1946 contract with the Tigers, too. I'm not worrying about trying to match Feller's pay check." Newhouse declared, "But maybe you'd be surprised how they really compare."

Newhouse, who received the Tigers' 1947 offer a week ago, said he's "not entirely satisfied with it" but hasn't conferred with the Detroit's Vice President Billy Evans. Both Newhouse and Evans have expressed belief they would have little difficulty getting together on terms.

Hal's feud with Feller, entirely a friendly rivalry of the mound, may become more active next season. They met only twice a year ago with each winning one.

Feller finished the season with 26 victories, 15 defeats, a new major league strikeout mark of 348 and an earned run average of 2.18.

Newhouse won 26 and lost nine, fanned 275 for second place in the strikeout race and led the league's earned run department for the second straight year with a mark of 1.94.

Salem Frosh Defeat East Palesline 31-19

Coach Frank Tarr's Salem High Freshman basketball team won its second decision of the season Thursday night, as they defeated East Palesline's Frosh 31-19 on the local court.

The Salemites leaped to an 11-0 lead in the initial quarter and led 19-3 at the half. Tarr then inserted his substitutes, who were held scoreless in the third period. The Quakers, however, held their own in the fourth.

Scott and Coue led the winners with six points apiece, while Young collected eight for the visiting Bulldogs.

Tells Of 1947 Indians In Talk Before 300 at Salem Boosters Club Thursday

Dynamic Bill Veeck sold himself and the Cleveland Indians—lock, stock and barrel—to more than 300 Salem baseball fans here Thursday night.

Speaking to the largest crowd ever assembled at a Salem Booster club meeting, Veeck entertained, informed and completely captivated an enthusiastic and interested gang of diamond fans bent on getting "the inside" on the Tribe and its new owner.

Starting out with a position-by-position roundup of what the 1947 Indian ball club looks like to him, Veeck, interspersing his talk with humor that in most cases was at his own expense, would predict only one thing regarding the coming season.

He said "We'll show up for all our ball games."

Without any promises of a pennant, however, Veeck did say he felt "that with a little luck, a good centerfielder and a few other bits of chance you fans may see Bobby Feller in a World Series."

The colorful Tribe executive said he "has heard a lot of talk about character building in sports—that it's not always winning that counts—but I've always been closely connected with the idea that you've got to win."

Veeck rounded up his talk with a question period, in which he attempted to answer any inquiries the fans had regarding the Indians, his own purposes in certain trades and other questions.

Asked if he felt there had been "a gentlemen's agreement" among club owners over Hank Greenberg in the recent trade that moved him out of the American league into the National, Veeck replied "The first thing wrong about that statement is that everyone knows there are no gentlemen in this game."

He went on to state that the Indians did not want Greenberg because they felt he would be "lost" in the big stadium outfield, was nearly through his baseball days and was more expensive than they felt able to pay for so short a future.

Veeck added, however, that he was glad to see such hitters as Greenberg go to the other league. He said "that's where I'd like to see a lot of them."

When questioned about possible resentment among the players because of the comparative youthfulness of Manager Lou Boudreau, he was emphatic in his support of the 29-year-old University of Illinois graduate.

He said he felt there was little or no resentment over Boudreau's age, mainly because the age difference in big league players was so slight.

He said he felt sure Boudreau would be manager of the club in 1948.

Kidded by one questioner regarding his "move down from the Chicago Cubs of the National league to the Indians," Veeck said he had moved up from Chicago to the Milwaukee minor league club and then on up to the Indians.

Displaying holes in his sweater and remarking that he wore no overcoat to Salem, Veeck said Bob Feller owned him completely after the recent signing for a reported $80,000.

Veeck wore his customary sport shirt, light tan sport coat and slacks. He was accompanied to Salem by Marshall "Spud" Goldstein, recently appointed traveling secretary for the Indians.

Large Throng of Salemites Expected at South Tonight; Pager Will Start Contest

Youngstown South's field house probably will be packed tonight when Salem tangles with Youngstown Rayen at 8:30 and Lowellville and Youngstown Ursuline meet in the preliminary at 7:30.

From all reports, where fans have been endeavoring each week to see the undefeated Quakers, some 1,000 Salemites will be on hand. At least two bus loads of students are scheduled to see the game and hundreds of others will make the 20-mile jaunt by auto.

Salem hopes for Victory No. 9 rose yesterday afternoon when Bob Pager, ace center and leading Quaker scorer, returned to school and practiced with the team.

It had been reported that Pager was ill with the flu and would be out of the lineup Friday. Coach Bob Miller indicated today that Pager probably would start, but might be given light duty if the game conditions were perfect.

The game tonight marks Salem's first attempt away from the local floor since Jan. 10, when they edged a spirited Alliance five 45-43 at Alliance.

Since that time Salem has beaten East Liverpool, Ravenna and Warren at home to keep its unblemished record in perfect shape.

The performance on the South floor tonight should give Quaker fans an indication of just how well the Salem quintet can go on a large gym floor. The important return clash with East Liverpool, in the Pottery City, is slated a week from tonight on the big Memorial court at Liverpool.

Salem's only showing this year on a large floor was at Alliance, where it led all the way but was hard-pressed to defeat an Aviator squad that has only won one game since that time.

The South floor is 30 feet longer than Salem's and is 12 feet wider, making a great difference in brand of operations allowed.

Faculty Manager Fred Cope remained fans today that the games at the field house will open at 6:30 p. m. with the first game booked at 7:30.

The gymnasium accommodates approximately 3,500 fans, but has been packed to hold 4,200 during the tournament last year.

NEWHOUSE LOOKS ON FELLER DEAL WITHOUT JEALOUSY

Detroit Ace Dickers With Evans Over Contract; Will Get Plenty

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, Jan. 24 — Hal Newhouse, steady left-hand pitching ace of the Detroit Tigers, isn't exactly in a jealous stew after reading of the choice attendance-bonus contract that may boost the earnings of his No. 1 American league mound rival, Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians, to $80,000 for 1947.

Newhouse, the former hot-tempered blond who since 1933 hasn't failed to win at least 25 games a season for the Tigers, doesn't figure he'll wind up so far behind the Cleveland fireballer in the 1947 salary derby at that.

"Don't feel sorry for me," he said. "I had a bonus clause based on attendance in my 1946 contract with the Tigers, too. I'm not worrying about trying to match Feller's pay check." Newhouse declared, "but maybe you'd be surprised how they really compare."

Newhouse, who received the Tigers' 1947 offer a week ago, said he's "not entirely satisfied with it," but hasn't conferred with the Detroit's Vice President Billy Evans.

Both Newhouse and Evans have expressed belief they would have little difficulty getting together on terms.

Hal's feud with Feller, entirely a friendly rivalry of the mound, may become more active next season. They met only twice a year ago with each winning one.

Feller finished the season with 26 victories, 15 defeats, a new major league strikeout mark of 348 and an earned run average of 2.18.

Newhouse won 26 and lost nine, fanned 275 for second place in the strikeout race and led the league's earned-run department for the second straight year with a mark of 1.94.

Salem Frosh Defeat East Palestine 31-19

Coach Frank Tarr's Salem High Freshman basketball team won its second decision of the season Thursday night, as they defeated East Palestine's Frosh 31-19 on the local court.

The Salemites leaped to an 11-0 lead in the initial quarter and led 19-3 at the half. Tarr then inserted his substitutes, who were held scoreless in the third period. The Quakers, however, held their own in the fourth.

Scott and Cune led the winners with six points apiece, while Young collected eight for the visiting Bulldogs.

Tells Of 1947 Indians In Talk Before 300 at Salem Boosters Club Thursday

Dynamic Bill Vecek sold himself and the Cleveland Indians—look, stock and barrel—to more than 300 Salem baseball fans here Thursday night.

Speaking to the largest crowd ever assembled at a Salem Booster club meeting, Vecek entertained, informed and completely captivated an enthusiastic and interested gang of diamond fans bent on getting "the inside" on the Tribe and its new owner.

Starting out with a position-by-position roundup of what the 1947 Indian ball club looks like to him, Vecek, interspersing his talk with humor that in most cases was at his own expense, would predict only one thing regarding the coming season.

He said "We'll show up for all our ball games."

Without any promises of a pennant, however, Vecek did say he felt "that with a little luck, a good centerfielder and a few other bits of chance you fans may see Bobby Feller in a World Series."

The colorful Tribe executive said he "has heard a lot of talk about character building in sports—it's not always winning that counts—but I've always been closely connected with the idea that you've got to win."

Vecek rounded up his talk with a question period, in which he attempted to answer any inquiries the fans had regarding the Indians, his own purposes in certain trades and other questions.

Asked if he felt there had been "a gentlemen's agreement" among club owners over Hank Greenberg in the recent trade that moved him out of the American league into the National, Vecek replied "The first thing wrong about that statement is that everyone knows there are no gentlemen in this game."

He went on to state that the Indians did not want Greenberg because they felt he would be "lost" in the big stadium outfield, was nearly through his baseball days and was more expensive than they felt able to pay for so short a future.

Vecek added however, that he was glad to see such hitters as Greenberg go to the other league. "He said 'that's where I'd like to see a lot of them.'"

When questioned about possible resentment among the players because of the comparative youthfulness of Manager Lou Boudreau, he was emphatic in his support of the 29-year-old University of Illinois graduate.

He said he felt there was little or no resentment over Boudreau's age, mainly because the age difference in big league players was so slight.

He said he felt sure Boudreau would be manager of the club in 1948.

Kidded by one questioner regarding his "move down from the Chicago Cubs of the National league to the Indians," Vecek said he had moved up from Chicago to the Milwaukee minor league club and then on up to the Indians.

Displaying holes in his sweater and remarking that he wore no overcoat to Salem, Vecek said Bob Feller owned him completely after the recent signing for a reported $80,000.

Vecek wore his customary sport shirt, light tan sport coat and slacks. He was accompanied to Salem by Marshall "Spud" Goldstein, recently appointed traveling secretary for the Indians.

PORTAL PAY SUIT INSTIGATORS LINKED TO COMMUNIST PARTIES

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) of the house committee on un-American activities declared today the man who got the idea for portal pay suits and the lawyer who brought the one sustained by the Supreme court "both have long records of Communist affiliation."

Soap Makers Trying To Meet Public Demand

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—You'd better go easy on the soap chips for a while longer.

The nation's leading soap producers, here for the annual meeting of the Association of American Soap & Glycerine Producers, said prospects were not quite as bright as they may look in your corner grocery store.

Household soap powders and chips have come out of hiding in retail stores, but this does not mean the industry has caught up with demand, soap makers said.

Four of the nation's leading producers gave this explanation for the rise in soap prices:

Raw materials represent the greatest proportion of cost in soap making. Tallow accounts for the bulk of raw material cost. Under OPA, tallow was priced at about 9 cents a pound. Today it sells for 22 cents a pound, an increase of 125 per cent in raw material costs.

Soap prices have advanced 50 per cent.

"It doesn't take an economist to understand that," one producer said. "He would prefer that prices hadn't gone up, because one of these days we are going to get caught with high-priced raw materials on hand when prices start down."

Thomas identified the attorney who brought the original action in the Mount Clemens Pottery Co. case as Edward Lamb of Toledo. This was the action upheld by the Supreme court, with the result that other union claims totaling more than $4,000,000,000 have been filed.

Expanding his remarks for the record of congressional proceedings, Thomas said the April-May issue of the magazine "The New Order" lists Riskin as an associate editor. The magazine, he said, is the official publication of the International workers order, which he called "one of the outstanding Communist fronts in the United States."

"Mr. Lamb, like Mr. Riskin," Thomas said, "has followed the Communist party line and has associated himself with numerous fronts which have been set up during the past ten years."

He said Lamb signed a statement to the president "defending the Communist party." He said Lamb was a member of the national committee and of the national legal advisory board of the International Labor Defense, an organization Thomas said "serves as the legal arm of the Communist party."

Thomas said Lamb was a member, too, of the executive committee of the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties, which he called "a Communist front organization of foreign-born."
